A MASS RESIGNATION

C. H. Boehm Points Out Board Had Permission To Float Bond Issue

The situation which exists in Hulmeville school district, with the resignation of the entire board of school directors, effective July 14th, has been referred by Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of Bucks County schools, to Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of schools.

Mr. Boehm announced today that he is awaiting the action of Dr. Haas in the case.

"According to the school code, he (Dr. Haas) may appoint someone to take over until a properly constituted board is scheduled for duty," stated Mr. Boehm today.

The entire personnel of Hulmeville board tendered its resignation a week ago, "chiefly because of tremendous increases in operational costs for the schools, which included necessary increases in teacher salaries, and the building program at Langhorne-Middletown high school, a portion of which Hulmeville district must bear." The board members stated they preferred to resign "rather than be responsible for a deficit which is certain to increase each year."

In speaking of the situation today, Superintendent Boehm stated that the Hulmeville board "saw no possibility of reducing short term loans—$5000 on the addition at Langhorne-Middletown high school; and $2000 for other obligations, not foreseen in current expenses."

It was further stated by the county superintendent that the board at Hulmeville had not, however, floated a bond issue, permission for which was granted by the voters two years ago. This was to enable the Hulmeville Board to pay its proportionate share of the cost of erection of a gymnasium and large addition to the high school at Langhorne. According to the county superintendent all boards in the Langhorne-Hulmeville-Middletown area felt building costs too high to proceed with the large addition planned so the smaller one was decided upon and is now being erected. It is stated, however, that a bond issue could not doubt be floated to care for this smaller addition. The present additional costs in the neighborhood of $50,000 it is announced, Hulmeville's share of the cost being taken out of current revenue of that district.

It was further pointed out by the superintendent that mandated salaries in the state are quite high, and that the state does not absorb the entire amount for increments. "The board forces increased amounts for salaries every year," Mr. Boehm adds that there have been mass resignations of several school boards in various parts of the state since 1930, during depression times. "There have also been boards in the state recently in which several members have resigned for similar reasons."

PROPOSED WORLD'S LARGEST SUSPENSION BRIDGE

THIS IS AN ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of how the world's largest suspension bridge would appear linking Brooklyn and Staten Island, N. Y., across the Narrows. The Triborough Bridge and Tunnel authority is seeking final permission from the War Department to go ahead with plans for the $75,000,000 link. ## A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The growing crisis in Berlin resulting from the Russian blockade of the city was the subject of earnest conversations in Washington and The Hague.

President Truman called his principal military and diplomatic advisers to the White House, where William H. Draper, Jr., Under-Secretary of the Army, just back from Berlin, reported on conditions there. Official Washington was said to feel that there was neither need nor justification for hasty or provocative action. During debate in the Commons, the British Government emphasized its determination not to be forced out of Berlin.

The shadow of the struggle in Berlin hung over The Hague conference of the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France and the Low Countries. Aspects of military cooperation by the United States and Canada with the Western European Union, including formation of a North Atlantic regional defense bloc under the United Nations, were discussed.

The front of the Western powers was weakened by the fall of the Schuman Cabinet in France. The Socialist Ministers withdrew, nominally over the military budget, and the Assembly refused a vote of confidence. President Auriol was seeking an acceptable new Premier.

COMMITTEES LISTED

All Pennsylvania State appropriations for local improvements will be made next spring. In order to insure that the Delaware Valley receives its full share of these funds, the Delaware Valley Protective Association is enlisting the support of all the residents, all local service clubs and organizations in the Valley.

Last year, through the efforts of the Delaware Valley Protective Association, the Pennsylvania legislature appropriated $200,000 to restore fresh clean running water in the canal. "Senator Edward B. Watson has stated that we have every reason to feel that this will be accomplished before the year is out," it was stated by an association spokesman.

"It is absolutely imperative that the restoration of the canal be completed and the banks rebuilt where they have given way, cleaned of debris and beautified," continues the statement.

"In addition this year, the Delaware Valley Protective Association hopes to instigate New Jersey legislation to complete the River Road in New Jersey from Stockton to Frenchtown. This is particularly important for it will complete a magnificent circuit of our section of the Delaware Valley and promote historic tours through the region.

"Furthermore the Association hopes to provide a check on the pollution of all waterways in the Valley and remedy the sources of contamination particularly the Pennsylvania Delaware Canal, New Jersey Delaware and Raritan Canal and the water power through Trenton.

"With the wholehearted support of all the residents and all service social and civic clubs and organizations in the Valley, the weight and strength of our association can be felt in Trenton and Harrisburg.

DEMONSTRATE HAZARD
TO SCHOOL STUDENTSBuses Operated Today Over
Narrow, Curving Spring
Garden Hill

IN AIM FOR SAFETY

RICHBORO, July 20 — An unusual demonstration took place on Route 332 in Northampton township this morning, the purpose being to ascertain what can be done to lessen the traffic hazard to school pupils who are required to travel over Spring Garden hill, between here and Newtown. Pupils of both Council Rock high school, near here, and Richboro high school, traverse this route.

Two fatal accidents and several others, also of a serious nature, have occurred there during the past few years.

The menace to life has oftentimes been emphasized, it being pointed out that distance between guard rails at the top of the hill is only 18 feet; and that at the middle of the hill a blind curve prevents drivers of two vehicles travelling in the opposite direction, and only 150 feet apart, from seeing each other's vehicle.

School buses were used in the demonstration this morning, they being manned by Chiefs of Police Edward Bateman, Newtown, Howard Ryan, Bryn Athyn, Clarence Heppie, Southampton; and Constable John Frey of Northampton township.

Watching the demonstration were: E. J. Kiny, assistant district engineer of the State Highway Department; James Worthington, Doylestown superintendent of the highway department for this area; John Armstrong, William Canning, representing Keystone Automobile Club; Norman W. Kratz, supt. of Council Rock high school; Raymond Gilbert, superintendent of Richboro high school; Herman Edwards, R. Norman Turner, representing Richboro school board.

The movement was made on the part of the school district to point out the danger to school buses loaded with pupils traveling that route, the State Highway Department cooperating to see what can be done to relieve the hazard.

A GREAT SOLDIER

Death of Gen. John J. Pershing commander of American forces in Europe in World War I, has brought to a close a distinguished military career. Full of honors and years, General Pershing, highest ranking officer in the U. S. Army, had dropped out of public notice in the decade in which he was virtually an invalid.

But during the late conflict his advice was frequently sought by General Marshall and other high ranking personalities in the war effort.

The old cavalryman's career dated back to the eighties when, as a graduate of West Point, he was sent to Army posts in the West. He served on the frontier in Montana, Wyoming and Arizona. The cavalry was in the forefront in the Indian campaigns and military life on the frontier was a rugged existence.

General Pershing married the daughter of Senator Francis E.
Warren, millionaire Wyoming sheepman and in 1915 was commander of the U. S. expedition into Mexico which sought the bandits under Villa who raided the town of Columbus N. M.

In 1917 he arrived in France to command the American Expeditionary Forces which, a year later, had grown to 2,000,000.
Under his direction they engaged in the toughest fighting ever engaged in by American troops up to that time.

Subsequently chief of staff of the Army, Pershing was several times mentioned for the presidency, but never evidenced interest in politics. He was one of the nation's greatest soldiers and his name is firmly engraved in American history.

With the nation's largest corn crop in prospect, the American people may renew a speaking acquaintance with a pork chop.

It seems as if more than 20 years have passed since Coolidge succeeded in whittling the Wilson debt down to $16,000,000,000.

If the Communist party isn't outlawed, joining it will be no way to win friends and influence people.

Traffic cops in a New England town have been ordered to quit making sarcastic remarks. Perhaps on the ground that flat-footed George Bernard Shaws are incongruous.

what part he might play in guiding Republican Congressional policy.
He will confer tomorrow with Har-

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Semonian B. Brown,
Pastor
Bethel A. M. E. Church

O God of mercy and truth use this day for Thy holy purpose. Take us as we are and make us as Thou wouldst have us, that our ways may be righteous and Thy Church pure. May we consider principles above men, and right doing above expediency or compromise. Help us to stand unafraid as we condemn sin in high places. Teach us that real victory is not in achieving selfish advantage over our fellows. In all our decisions may Thy name be praised, through Jesus. Amen.

FIFTH WARD GETS OUT OF CELLAR; DEFEATS LEWIS IX

The Fifth Ward Sporting Club climbed out of the cellar of the Bristol Suburban League by registering a 11-3 win over the Clinton Lewis Lodge of Elks last evening on Memorial Park field. It was the first win after 10 straight defeats for the Warders, they having won their last game on June 1st when they beat the Lewis Lodge team by the same score of last evening.

"Bill" Stockton was the mound victor for the Warders, he giving the Lewis Lodge but eight scattered safe blows. Of the eight hits, three went to Hardy Johnson, and two each to "Wes" Ringgold and "Rocky" Sands. "Ernie" Davis made the other hits.

Clarence Anderson received the drubbing from the Fifth Warders although the losers did not give him any decent support. Eight errors aided the Warders in chalking up their total of runs.

Joe Caucei and Mario Costantino led the Warders with the bat, each having two safe blows.

ST. LUKE'S SCORES WIN AND HOLDS 1ST PLACE

Trailing by a 4-2 score, as the final frame rolled around, St. Luke's began rolling and before the wheels had stopped turning they had battered around, paraded six big runs across the platter, and had taken an 8-4 lead to beat out Presbyterian, on the latter's field. The final score was 8-5, since Presbyterian's final bid to tie the score or to pull the game out of the fire, was a single tally in their last turn at bat, in a game last week of the Lower Bucks County Softball League.

Manager Al Kohler featured the big six run rally when he blasted out a long triple with two on base, to seal the verdict for his club. Kohler was out at the plate in trying for a four bagger, to retire the side. But so far as Presbyterian was concerned, the damage was done. Three walks, a fielder's choice, an error, a hit by Wally Wurtzman, and Kohler's triple accounted for the six runs off Johnny Jones, who was breezing along in fine style mowing the St. Luke's hitters down until the last inning. Jim Barnhart's long triple to left was the feature of Presbyterian's two run third inning, that enabled them to tie the score at 2-2 at that time.

As a result of their triumph, St. Luke's held its first place margin of one-half game over Calvary, who moved up past Presbyterian, to take second spot while the latter dropped down to the third rung.

St. Luke's had previously hooked up with Calvary in a slamb-bang affair that winded up in a 7-7 deadlock, with Calvary at bat in the last of the sixth, when the game was halted by darkness.

St. Luke's got away swinging, with five big runs in the first inning after two were out. With Freddy Bartholomae on base, Erv Weinrich singled. Then in order, Ritter doubled, Foerrestler walked, Kohle doubled, and Jim Lambie singled, and five runs were over. However, Calvary came back with two in their turn, on three singles and a walk; then tied the score in the third on L. Tomlinson's hit. Harry Erny's double and two successive errors, St. Luke's again went out in front, 7-5, on Dutch Foerrestler's terrific home run smash to left, behind a single by Ritter. But Calvary added single tallies in each of the fifth and sixth to again knot the score. In the fifth, Chart Tomlinson doubled and scored on Erny's single, and in the sixth Elwood Dyer doubled and counted on Jim Katz's hit, after Dale Smith beat out a bunt for a hit. The game was called following Katz's hit with runners on second and third and no outs.

Bensalem scored an 11-5 triumph over St. James with Bud Mullins' fifth inning home run with two on, sealing the verdict for the ultimate winners. This was a playoff of their previously played 7-7 tie game on Monday night, a game in which Howard Bates hit a home run in the last inning with one on base, to enable the Bensalem club to knot the score at 7-7.

Hulmeville Methodist Episcopal withdrew from the league for the balance of the season and forfeited its final two games of the second round, by scores of 7-0 to Calvary and Bristol Methodist. The Bristol Methodist-St. Luke's game was rained out on Tuesday evening.

TIME NEARS FOR U. S. TRACK TEAM TO PROVE WORTH

By Davis J. Walsh
(N. S. Sports Writer)

ABOARD THE SS. AMERICA, July 20 — (INS)—Impressionable young ears no doubt still rang today with the reportorial hosannas and yips of frenetic approval that arose during the week-old final tryouts at Evanston.

But now only a few hundred nautical miles remain before an American Olympic track team will be required to go ashore at Southampton and start proving—as of July 29 Olympic premiere at Wembley Stadium—that the applause was fully merited.

That may take quite a bit of doing. More, perhaps, than this versatile by-hybrid U. S. squad is able to dredge up, on demand, from the leaps of its considerable talent.

As a generality, however, it may be said that no American team can all itself really good which doesn't win at least two of the three strongly pro-American short-distance races from 100 metres to 400, but this team mightn't.

It has to lick, among others, British-subject Herb McKenley, the big 45.9 man, in the 400-metre final at London and the prevailing belief that no American could do that, with the aid of a motorcycle escort.

That would appear to take care of one of the big three—which calls for a jackpot parlay right through the other two at 100 and 200 metres. There may be several dozen reasons why we won't, quite possibly including a couple of guys named Barney Ellwell and Mel Patton, our one-two punch in the sprints.

Some say they're great; others, not so sure. But one thing is definite: They're not invincible.

The point is they could be that, too and still fail. For there's always the chance they'll be asked, when least expected, to best the guy who's simply and succinctly called the "extra man."

He's infallible. He never loses, doesn't intend to, won't. For he's the guy leering smugly from behind an official's badge who, in some maddening and manic-depressive manner, calls them strictly on the bias and as he doesn't see them.

Americans seem to affect him adversely. He's all right for months at a time. Then he sees one and has a relapse. In fairness it should be pointed out that in America the cry, "kill the umpire" likewise has been heard on occasion.

The books, for instance, say that Alf Hill, of England, won the 800 at the Antwerp games in 1920. But Pennsylvania's Earl Eby has said all along that Hill inched him to the tape only by the expedient of "running him off" or taking him wide to the outside of the track in the last 200 yards.

Nothing was done about it. The books also say Lauri Lehtinen preserved Finland's almost unbroken list of successes at 5,000 metres by winning the 32 event at Los Angeles.

But the real winner, according to many observers, was Ralph Hill, of Oregon, who began running over Lehtinen and another Finn in the stretch only to get the old glimlet.

While the stands seethed with outrage and officials by the dozens sawed, the Finns were seen to zigzag in front of Hill all the way from the top of the stretch to the tape. Again, nothing was done then or later.

In 1908 they took a self-disqualified man, Dorando, the Italian, and with physical aid, tried to make him win the marathon.

Twice he fell down within the stadium. Twice, they stood him up. An old picture shows Dorando at the finish, being shooed across the line from the rear by two officials with outstretched arms.

Johnny Hayes, the American, was about 400 yards back in second place at the time. The entire stadium knew it.

He finally was declared the winner late that night.

Twenty years later at Amsterdam, there were hints that Lloyd Hahn wasn't given any breaks in the 800 trials. Nothing was done. In 1912 there was a public complaint that Ralph Craig used "gun-baiting" tactics in winning the 100. The others, of course, were different.

They used gun-baiting tactics in losing. The current penalty for false-starting wasn't in effect then. In 1920, Loren Murchison stood up after the starter's "set" when the clerk-of-the-course called out in French, that the hands of another 100-metre finalist were fouling the line.

They were still fouling a split-second later when the gun went off and left Murchison at the post. The race stood, as run.

Few officials had heard of Dorando before the strange interlude of 1908. None had anything against Hayes, Craig, Eby, Murchison, Ralph Hill, et al., as individuals.

But they were Americans. And, on a sight-reading of the record that would seem to have been enough.

CROYDON A. C. WINS OVER TOWNSHIP

Croydon A. C. smothered the Bristol Township team last evening in a Bristol Youth League game played at Croydon. Final score was: Croydon, 16; Township, 2.

The hurling of Harry Elsberry was too much for the Township team. In six innings, Elsberry allowed one hit and did not admit a run. In the last inning, Joe Ashby took up the hill burden and gave Township its pair of runs on one hit. Elsberry struck out 10 and walked two batters.

Croydon made 15 hits and "Bill" Mon featured with a triple with two on base in the fourth inning. Both Elsberry and "Jim" Morrell scored four runs each.

VOLTZ'S HOPES FOR PLAY-OFF SPOT ARE SHATTERED

Voltz-Texaco's hopes for a play-off spot in the Bristol Suburban League were shattered last evening as the Goodwill Hose nine scored a 14-8 victory over the gamblers on the Third Ward field.

Both teams hit the ball hard but the fire-eaters made their blows count. Goodwill had 15 hits while Voltz-Texaco made 14 safe smacks.

"Clint" Furell received the shut-out on the mound, he staying in the limit of nine innings. Manager Jesse Vanzant, of Goodwill, started Jack Hansen and he was injured in the first. "Hughie" Deans took his place and he pitched until the fifth when Joe McDevitt was sent in to finish.

Leading the Goodwill sticklers were "Bobby" Bauroth and McDevitt, who had four out of five each. "Vic" Rockhill and "Johnny" Pindar had three hits each for Voltz.

Jack Walker's sensational catch of Capriotti's line drive in the eighth, which was converted into a double-play, was the fielding gem of the contest.

Hunter-Wilson increased its slim lead in the Bristol Industrial League to a full game last week as it swept to a double win in late inning rallies from Leedom and Fleetwing while Plexiglas again led in the runner-up position as a result of continued postponements.

Leedom returned on Thursday to rout the favored R. & H. Lab. club by the surprising margin of 11-2.

The third and final round of play, opening this week, finds all six clubs still in position to secure a berth in the Shaughnessy play-off series which will determine the League championship.

Leedom got away to an impressive start in its tilt with Hunter-Wilson at the latter's field by running up a four run first inning lead, increasing it to five runs in the fourth. Hunter-Wilson managed to bring in one tally in its first turn at bat, but stalled thereafter and seemed headed for a setback when the sixth inning came up, the score 5-1 against them. With only one hit from Smith in five innings, the Hunter-Wilson attack went into high in this inning to belt the Leedom flinger for six hits which, aided by a Leedom error and a walk, enabled the whiskey makers to bat around and bring in seven big runs for an 8-5 count and the ball game.

The low ranked Leedom club rebounded from the Hunter-Wilson defeat on Thursday at Rohm and Haas field as they copied Hunter-Wilson's strategy in putting on a display of late inning power to crush R. & H. Lab. by a top-sided 11-2 count. The game, a close pitcher's battle until the fifth inning, began to open up in that frame as the Leedom larupers collected three runs to offset a 1-0 lead the Lab had obtained in the second. However, it really came apart in the sixth and seventh, as Leedom counted four times in each of those innings to put down all hopes of an effective Lab rally after the Labmen had tallied their final run in the fifth to bring up the score to 3-2 at that point.

Ludwig's pitching effort and the Hunter-Wilson's early inning weakness on Thursday by rolling up three runs on a walk, two hits and a Hunter-Wilson error in the first inning to get away to a big lead. The league leaders replied earlier this time by coming through for two runs in the third inning after failing to score with bases loaded in the second. Fleetwing also loaded the bags unsuccessfully in the third, but in the fourth they did it again and cleared them off, coming up with a walk and three hits to tally four times and step away to a commanding 7-2 lead. Hunter-Wilson again waited an inning before countering in the sixth with four tallies to bring up the count to 7-6. Hammer, Capriotti, Smith and Huggeri delivering the effective blows in the rally. In the seventh, Hunter-Wilson did it the easy way as the tying and winning runs were brought in on successive hits by Griffin, Ennis, and Naylor.
